

Master in Technologies for the Development Of European Projects

The European Academy for Education and Social Research has the pleasure to invite you to attend the “Master in Technologies for the Development of European Projects” that gives a complete knowledge of tools needed to become a EU funds project manager. A detailed insight into practical approaches will make you familiar with the all funding opportunities provided by the European Commission for the 2007 - 2013 budgetary period. The European Funds, which are available for almost every field of interest, represents a relevant alternative way to traditional methods of financing for individuals and all type of organizations including SMEs, NGOs, University and other Public Bodies.

The master is promoted by the European Projects Association and implemented by the European Academy for Education and Social Research in close cooperation with International University Institute for European Studies and the European Regional Information Society Association.

The European Academy for Education and Social Research is an institution aiming at developing a better Europe through the knowledge sharing and a research based use of Information and Communication Technologies within the field of European projects management. The educational aim is achieved through the European Projects Academy, a set of services for knowledge sharing and best practices transfer through the learning by doing methodology. The social research is conducted through My Europa platform, a set of web-based tools for social cooperation, networking and projects development.

Open Enrollment

The “Master in Technologies for European Projects Development” will be held during the next academic year from November 2011 to November 2012 and will include the following courses:

1. EU INSTITUTIONS AND FUNDING POLICIES

(7th – 11th November 2011 – Gorizia, Italy)

2. EUROPEAN PROJECTS ENGLISH

(February 2012 – Dublin, Ireland)

3. COMMUNITY PROGRAMMES AND STRUCTURAL FUNDS

(April 2012 – Rovinj, Croatia)

4. EUROPEAN PROJECTS DEVELOPMENT

(May 2012 – Rovinj, Croatia)

5. CASE STUDIES AND EUROPEAN PROJECTS SIMULATION

(May 2012 – Brussels, Belgium)

6. PROFESSIONAL IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

(June 2012 – November 2012, Partner Organisations)

It is possible to enrol either in the full study programme or in single courses. The successful completion of all five modules leads to the diploma in Technologies for the European Projects Development and the attendance of Professional Improvement Program. Otherwise, the attendance of a single course leaves you with a certificate of participation.

If you are interested in attending the full Master in Technologies for the Development of European projects or a single course, please visit the following link: www.academy-europa.eu/master for downloading the information package and the application form. Or for full information details please read through our online course brochure.

We are looking forward to hear from you.

With Kindest Regards,

European Academy for Education and Social Research

The Capel Building, Mary's Abbey

Suite 302, 304

7 Dublin, Ireland

www.academy-europa.eu

E-mail: master@academy-europa.eu

Phone: 00353 1 2542906

Fax: 00353 1 5261085